

nappy gel

A truly effective natural way to keep your baby's bottom smooth and clear

Janet Balaskas explains why natural nappy gel is so effective and popular with our mums

When we formulated this amazing gel, our concern was to find the best possible natural way to effectively protect and keep the nappy area healthy which is also cooling and refreshing for the baby.

If your baby gets rash that does not clear up within two or three days, or seems to be getting worse, it's important to have your doctor or health visitor take a look. I have noticed that when mothers use Active Birth Nappy Gel, most problems improve within this time, and then disappear completely within a few more days. Regular use while your baby is in nappies will help to prevent problems.

The reason natural Nappy Gel is so easy to apply and makes such a difference is really due to the ingredients.

These 6 natural active ingredients are what makes Active Birth Nappy Gel so effective in preventing and treating nappy rash

Roman chamomile (Anthemis nobilis aqua) acts as an emollient which provides antioxidation and is widely regarded as an excellent skin soother and anti-inflammatory agent.

Aloe Vera (Aloe barbadensis) helps the skin replenish lost moisture. It works immediately and effectively to heal and soothe. Because of its anti-inflammatory, anti-itching, antibacterial and anti-fungal properties Aloe Vera is widely used to treat inflamed and irritated skin.

Calendula (Calendula officinalis) is considered to be an excellent remedy for any skin abrasions or soreness. It's used to soothe inflammation of the skin and mucous membranes and to reduce body scars, soothe chapped skin and eliminate broken capillaries.

Lavender (Lavandula angustifolium) is cleansing, refreshing and relaxing. Essential oil of lavender has potent anti-bacterial, stimulating, antispasmodic, and decongesting properties. It is used to relieve discomfort from all skin conditions including burns, swelling, itching, and acne.

Tea tree (Melaleuca alternifolia) is natural preservative with antiseptic and germicidal properties. This important essential oil is commonly used to treat wounds, burns, scratches, abrasions, sun burn, itching, eczema, psoriasis, thrush, and fungal infections.

Witchazel (Hamamelis virginiana) has astringent and toning effects that contribute to the cleansing and soothing qualities to the nappy gel. It's also a highly regarded anti-inflammatory.

Here is what mothers who use Nappy Gel say:

'Excellent stuff. I would recommend it to anyone. Clears up nappy rash which immediately appears after using normal wipes'

'Since I switched to your Nappy Gel Rachel hasn't had a hint of nappy rash. As an added bonus it also seems to help ease her sensitive skin'

'My baby has a dry skin problem. I used the Nappy Gel on one leg and another product on the other. The differ- ence was amazing - the dryness on the leg where I used your gel improved noticeably'

'This is my fourth child. Your nappy gel is fantastic, it's rare to find anything that works this quickly. When it looks like my baby is developing nappy rash I start to use this and it all goes away. It is also much nicer and more cooling than any cream.'

'A miracle - my baby had gastric flu with a very sore, red bottom - your Nappy Gel worked wonders, excellent stuff. My husband even uses it to soothe his skin. '

'Every time my one year old has a slightly red bottom I use the Gel immediately and the soreness goes very quickly. It is also much nicer and more cooling than any cream'

'Best alternative product for this area, cleared up nappy rash, where others didn't'
